COUNTY PLANS SELECTION OF T. B. DIRECTOR

Health League, Medical Group Advance Suggestion

NEW SUPERVISOR TO BE PHYSICIAN

Health League Also Campaigns for Sanitarium

LISBON, Nov. 22.—County commissioners Monday afternoon approved a recommendation made by representatives of the health league and medical association providing for the employment of a physician to supervise anti-tuberculosis work in the county.

Approval of the proposal followed a dinner at the Wick hotel here attended by members of both organizations. Delmar Serafy, executive secretary of the Columbiana County Health league, outlined the program. It was presented immediately following to the commissioners.

Maximum Salary $4,000

The appointee must be a graduate of a recognized medical school with sanitarium experience. He will be in complete charge of the campaign in this county at a salary not to exceed $4,000 a year, and will devote full time to the work.

In explaining the proposal, Serafy stated there were 150 active cases of tuberculosis in the county, pointing out that treatment required an annual expenditure of $20,000. He said the commissioners would be asked to increase this to $40,000 to provide for the new program. Dr. L. W. King of Salem was spokesman for the group at the hearing in the commissioners' office.

The health league also is sponsoring a campaign to erect a tuberculosis sanitarium in the county. Tentative plans call for the submission of a bond issue at the election next fall. PWA assistance also may be requested.

Appointment of the new director will follow rigid investigation of his qualifications by the medical society which will make its recommendation to the commissioners. The man selected probably will be carried on the county payroll as assistant to the health commissioner but will be in complete charge of tuberculosis prevention and treatment.

Will Conduct Clinics

Periodic clinics now supervised by Dr. E. E. Kirkwood, superintendent of the Mahoning county sanitarium, will be in charge of the appointee. Dr. Kirkwood endorsed the proposal, stating a full time doctor could accomplish a great deal in curbing the disease.

The clinics are financed by the health league through the sale of Christmas seals.

Nazi Trade Boycott Hit By Educator

Called Futile Gesture Unless All Nations Co-operate

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Proposals by Jewish sympathizers for breaking off trade relations with Nazi Germany were described today as "a futile gesture" by a Boston university educator.

A boycott of German trade was advocated last night by speakers at a protest meeting sponsored by the American League for Peace and Freedom.

Today, however, Prof. Edward R. Collier of Boston university's college of business administration predicted that any retaliatory policy, either diplomatic or economic, would fail unless other democracies joined the United States.

"For the first nine months of this year," he said in a statement, "our exports to Germany were roughly 75 million dollars while our imports from Germany were only about 44 million.

"Since we sell more than we buy, a breaking off of commercial trade would hurt us more than it would Germany. Our experience with sanctions in the Ethiopian crisis showed that economic boycotts are ineffective unless all trading powers join in."

GERMAN ENVOY TO BE RECALLED

London Embassy Spokesman Says Von Dirksen Will Leave

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Reports that Germany was considering calling her ambassador home for consultation on the deterioration of relations with Britain since the Nazi anti-Jewish drive were published here today.

A German embassy spokesman, however, declared there was no question of the ambassador, Herbert Von Dirksen, leaving London now, and in Berlin officials denied that the envoy would be recalled.

Resentment was apparent among Nazis, however, against a parliamentary motion deploring treatment of "certain racial, religious and political minorities in Europe," and a proposal that Tanganyika, former German East Africa, be one refuge for German Jews.

The house of commons unanimously adopted the motion last night. It suggested "an immediate concerted effort among the nations, including the United States, to secure a common policy," and was offered by Philip J. Noel-Baker, Labor party member.

Labor members proposed a tax on German products, control of German assets in England and strong diplomatic action to demonstrate British disapproval of the Nazi anti-Jewish program.

Noel-Baker told the house he had been informed 70 Jews were killed in a concentration camp and detailed other instances of mistreatment in Germany.

Three-Point Plan

He advocated a three-point plan—1. A protest to Berlin by Britain, the United States and other governments; 2. Inform Germany there could be no co-existence with "while the martyrdom of Jews, Socialists and Catholics goes on;" 3. "Consider if we should not take measures of active self-protection."

Premier Chamberlain told parliament yesterday the government was prepared to lease for Jewish refugees at least 10,000 square miles in British Guiana, colony on the northeast coast of South America; and as much land in British Tanganyika, northern Rhodesia, Nyasaland and Kenya colony as economically and climatically suitable.

The Nazi anger was directed particularly at the inclusion of Tanganyika, which Germany hopes to regain with the rest of her war lost colonies.

CLEMENCY PLEA IN HAHN CASE WILL BE HEARD

ELECTROCUTION SET FOR DEC. 7

Blond Talks of Future, Hopes She Will Not Have to Die

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—A clemency hearing for Anna Marie Hahn, condemned to die in the electric chair Dec. 7, will be held here Dec. 1, Daniel Earhart, executive secretary to Gov. Martin L. Davey, announced today.

Earhart will conduct the hearing in the state house. Mrs. Hahn's attorneys are seeking either a direct pardon from the governor or a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment.

Talks of Future

Mrs. Hahn, quartered at Ohio penitentiary since last Dec. 1, talked today of the future.

But the future, as she visualizes it, is not death. It is "when I am in Marysville."

Thus she expressed her hope that Gov. Martin L. Davey would not let her become the first woman ever electrocuted by the State of Ohio, but would commute her sentence to life imprisonment in the state reformatory for women at Marysville.

Governor Davey has not indicated his attitude. His policy in such cases generally has been not to supersede the courts. He has given Christmas reprieves, one of which, if for the customary length of time, would postpone Mrs. Hahn's death until Jan. 7.

Won't "Pass Buck"

At any rate, he has said he would not "pass the buck" to Governor-elect John W. Bricker, who takes office in January.

Mrs. Hahn, who was convicted of the poison slaying of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner of Cincinnati and was accused of killing three other men in an alleged "murder for profit" scheme, talked cheerfully as she greeted the press for the second time since she entered Ohio penitentiary last Dec. 1.

She wore no makeup, but the blonde hair of the 32-year-old German-born woman was carefully waved and her nails were perfectly manicured as she sat in a rocking chair in her special "death row" cell.

Surplus Clothing To Be Distributed To Relief Clients

LISBON, Nov. 22.—Harry Hopkins' "Buy and Give" program initiated last summer when the WPA administrator bought surplus clothing stock from manufacturers, reached Columbiana county today when a truck load of garments arrived here for distribution to relief clients.

The southeastern section of the county was the first to receive the program. The garments were distributed to relief families today at the fire station in East Liverpool. At a later date another distributing point will be designated for the balance of the county.

The clothing will be issued only to clients who had made previous requests for garments. Although distribution and WPA project, undertaken as a common policy, workers in this division are not eligible. The clothing was sent here from Columbus in charge of C. L. Bordner who will supervise distribution in East Liverpool.

The consignment includes men's suits and overcoats, women's coats and children's garments. H. A. Moore, surplus commodities distributor for the outside, announced the arrival of the East Palestine warehouse of a carload of dried cereal and half a carload of wheat peaches.

They reported finding from about $5 of the $100 taken from the house, which adjoins the store, was recovered. The money belonged to Eleanor Lambright, a daughter.

PHONE COMPANY BREAKS GROUND

$265,000 Program Under Way, Marking Change To Dial System

Ground was broken today for the new building which the Ohio Bell Telephone company will erect on the lot at 165 N. Lundy ave., just off Sugar Tree alley, as part of the program to establish dial telephone service in Salem.

Total cost of the program will approximate $265,000, according to Carl F. Willman, the company's commercial manager. This will include $210,000 for the building and the dial central office equipment which it will house. $45,000 for new telephones and the cost of substituting them for the present manual instruments, and $12,000 for improving and rehabilitating the outside plant.

Two Stories and Basement

The main part of the building will have two stories and a basement, with a one-story annex on one side. The two-story section will be 46 feet wide and 50 feet deep, while the annex will have a width of 31 feet and a depth of 34 feet. This will give the entire structure a frontage of 77 feet.

The Ohio Bell business office will be in the annex. Dial central office equipment will occupy the first floor of the main building. Switchboards handled by long distance operators and special operators required by the dial system will be on the second floor. A rest room for the operators and a conference room for all departments also will be on this floor.

Quarters of the plant department, which is responsible for all of the physical telephone plant, will be in the basement. Here, too, will be the cable vault, through which all telephone lines enter the building from the outside.

"Exterior of the building will be of brick, with stone trim," said Manager Willman.

"A Bell system building is designed to harmonize with its surroundings. Requirements for the structures are more or less standard in regard to equipment needs."

Straightens Out Marital Troubles

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Caroline Mary Richards, 21, today began the task of straightening out her marital troubles. Judge Samuel H. Silbert ruled yesterday that her divorce of a week ago was illegal and her marriage on the same day bigamous.

The judge vacated the divorce decree from Emery B. Richards of Columbus and annulled her marriage to James C. Phinney of Lorain. Failure to establish legal residence in the state before filing her suit against Richards caused the mixup.

Ohio Friends Discuss Plans To Restore Old Meetinghouse

Group From Salem To Attend Mass Meeting At Barnesville H School Tonight

A group of Salem Friends, interested in the restoration of old Quaker meetinghouse at Pleasant, were to go to Mt. Pleasant tonight to attend a mass meeting in the High school auditorium opening a campaign for funds to restore the historic shrine.

Lewis Lupton, chairman of Mt. Pleasant committee, in a letter to the group, announced that among persons attending would be Dr. Harlow L. Lupton, secretary of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society.

The yearly meetinghouse, Pleasant, built in 1813, 60 by 90 feet and is in fairly good condition. It used for a yearly meeting in 1913. It is still used occasionally by Friends or civic bodies for picnics and get-togethers.

With a stone foundation, the old brick walls are without a crack, blemish or bulge to mar their symmetry. Originally the building had eight doors, but now only six are used, the others having been bricked up.

The building can easily accommodate 2,000 persons. Everything in the building, with the exception of a few wooden chairs, dates from 1813 and 1814. Still intact is the massive hand turned machinery that lifted a huge shutter dividing the building into two equal and exact parts, one for women and the other for men.

Child Succumbs at City Hospital In East Liverpool

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED HERE

Akron Man Is Fined In Death of John Bauman at Canfield

An 11-year old boy was killed and another youth seriously injured in two separate traffic accidents in the district Monday afternoon. The boy who was killed was riding a bicycle and the other a motorcycle.

Donald Pike, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pike of Calcutta, north of East Liverpool, died in the East Liverpool City hospital at 5:30 p. m. after a truck driven by Harry K. Gaston of R. D. 1, East Liverpool, hit his bicycle.

The accident happened at 4:50, on a county road, 200 feet from the intersection of Route 170, according to the report of State Highway Patrolman James White.

Skull Fractured

The boy died as the result of a fractured skull and internal injuries. Coroner Arnold Devon was investigating today.

Patrolman White learned that the child rode his bicycle out from a garage and as he attempted to pass a slowly-moving truck, operated by H. C. Knepper of Calcutta, he rode directly into the path of Gaston's truck, coming in the opposite direction.

A witness said a playmate called to him at about the same time. This may have distracted his attention momentarily.

The funeral service will be held Thursday at the home, followed by burial in the United Presbyterian church cemetery at Calcutta.

Motorcycle Accident

Joseph Prosale, 24, of North Jackson, was removed to the Calcutta Clinic at 1:30 p. m. yesterday after his motorcycle spilled on the Benton road and hurled him to the pavement.

Hospital attendants, who reported his condition as fair, said he suffered a broken collarbone and a brain concussion.

Gail Eckstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thiri Eckstein of Franklin st., was injured when he was thrown from a bicycle on South Lincoln ave. Monday noon. The youth suffered a severe cut on the top of the head and bruises about the body. He was treated in a doctor's office and sent home.

AKRON DRIVER FINED

Earl Franklin, 31, of Akron, who admitted he was the driver of the machine which struck and killed John Bauman, 72, of R. D. 1, Canfield, just north of Canfield Sunday night, was fined $25 and costs yesterday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The arraignment was before Mayor George Wilson at Canfield, after Franklin, a bookkeeper, appeared before the patrol station here. State patrolmen notified him that he had better come down or they would come after him.

He told the officers that he and a companion, Sally Perdue, 28, also of Akron, became "confused and excited after the accident."

He leaves eight children, Mrs. John Harlan of New Brighton, Pa., and Freda, Lloyd, Vernon, Beulah and Ila of the Depot rd., Salem, Marian and Lester at home; one grandchild; three brothers, Walter of Raleigh, N. C., John of Minneapolis and Fred of Franklin Square.

Final rites will be held at the late W. D. Marshall residence in Franklin Square in charge of Rev. S. J. Shoemaker, pastor of the Leetonia and Franklin Square churches.

Burial will be in Franklin Square cemetery.

THE ANGLO-AMERICAN REPLY

In and between the lines of comment on the Anglo-American trade agreement reached last week was recognition that the political significance of the agreement was almost as important as the trade concessions made by the two countries.

There can be no doubt that in foreign capitals the political side of the agreement was not underestimated. It is, in effect, the Anglo-American reply to a great many things which have been happening in the world recently.

It conveys to all interested governments that the signatories to the agreement, already doing something like 80 percent of all international trade, have pledged themselves to preserve liberal commercial policies. The totalitarian states have been challenged on the commercial front by the world's two strongest commercial powers.

It is not, however, a challenge from which there is no escape. Insofar as totalitarian states are capable of embracing the principle of reciprocal trade, the United States and the British empire, too, would be glad to reach an understanding with them on that basis.

Their agreement is not exclusive. Circumstances have made it seem to be an answer, however, to the exclusive political and trade policies of states like Germany which apparently have no more use for the principle of reciprocity in trade than in any other phase of their conduct. It was time for some kind of an answer to be given; it is hard to imagine a more convincing one than a trade agreement.

WITH RESERVATIONS

When and if North America are brought as close together in fact as Washington wants to think they are in spirit, a story like the following would have been published so widely by this time that children in the street would know it backward.

In the meantime, in view of the tremendous importance of a national defense policy calling for a navy large enough to defend the western hemisphere and possibly for an army of comparable importance, it is interesting to know what Associated Press has discovered about South American opinion.

A sketchy survey revealed that the southern continent's major powers are divided on the merits of uniting the new world nations in a military bloc to hold off aggressors, with the United States furnishing the lion's share of the equipment.

Brazil, says its foreign minister, is willing to support such a plan. The foreign minister of Argentina, South America's wealthiest country, is flatly opposed. The president of Uruguay, which customarily follows Argentina's lead in foreign policy, won't say yes and he won't say no; he says he will make up his mind when he sees such a plan.

Apparently, North Americans stand in some danger of making an assumption about South America's willingness to be saved which isn't shared universally by South Americans.

21 GUNS

The old world cynicism which crops out in 21 gun salutes for the birth of princesses and gives 102 to boys has no place in the United States, thank goodness. A girl baby here is worth just as many cigars as a boy. If the father feels a little let down, as he does sometimes, particularly after a succession of girl babies, he won't admit it.

To be sure, the female has yet to find an exalted place in political power, with certain notable exceptions, but the new world still has hope. The more it observes of the terrible mess male rulers make of things in the old world, despite 102 gun salutes for their birth, the more inclined it is to believe that women yet may be the saviors of the world.

That little princess born in Egypt and the one born in Holland recently may have a destiny ahead of them greater than anyone thinks. When the men have made a mess of things, perhaps then they will be willing to let the girls try their hand—and the shortage of gun firing at their birth may turn out to a symbol in reverse.

TRIFLES THAT MATTER

One of the worst things about having things in an uproar is the difficulty of getting a hearing for trivial subjects of great importance, like a good dessert for dinner.

A few days ago an engineer for an automobile manufacturing concern took for his bride the daughter of a hotel proprietor in a Pennsylvania town because when he stopped there the dessert served to him in the hotel was so good he asked who made it. Told it was the creation of the proprietor's daughter, he asked for an introduction, and it was the beginning of a beautiful friendship.

What better advice could the women of America be given than to take special pains with the dessert, not forgetting the main course. A nation which sighs contentedly after a good meal has two strikes on the sluggers who are making life miserable elsewhere in the world.

Writings, publicity and contracts are under favorable auspices.

Those whose birthday it is should be prepared to enjoy a year of great progress in the way of stabilizing their interests, whether investments, property, business or contracts, with promise of increased income and expansion of opportunity for security and gain. Writings, letters, advertising and publicity assist in this direction, but be alert to understand and subtle machinations. Old as well as new matters should flourish.

A child born on this day may have very sound and practical ideas, as well as subtle creative energies and equipment, to place it in a position of security, advancement and responsibility in life. Its mind should be alert, shrewd and crafty.

JEWISH RELIGIOUS SERVICES ARE BANNED

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The German press recorded Nazi feeling against settlement of German Jews in British Tanganyika, former German East Africa, today as plans developed for continuing the anti-Jewish campaign through the winter.

The continued campaign, although mass arrests have been stopped, centers about Propaganda Minister Goebbels.

He is to address 1,000 of his colleagues at the Kroll Opera house tonight on how to conduct an anti-Jewish drive, and the newspaper Zwei Uhr Blatt said 1,500 meetings were planned for Berlin alone this winter.

The subjects will be the newspaper said, "Eternal Jew Disturbs Peace of the World" and "One People—one Will—one Aim." The Nazi film, "Jewry without the Mask" will be shown at all meetings.

Authoritative quarters said a strict ban on all Jewish religious services except marriage and burial rites was the latest restriction, one which aroused much bitterness.

The absence of official reaction to the British plan for settlement of Jews in Tanganyika, other parts of British Africa and Guiana was seen as a studied effort while the Nazis await the outcome of Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Paris where he is to discuss defense and foreign policies with Premier Daladier.

There was talk that Chancellor Hitler would summon the reichstag to protect against the proposal of settlement of former German territory to Jews.

Jews themselves acclaimed the proposal, but feared the inclusion of Tanganyika among prospective havens might react against them.

"Won't Hitler be so enraged about Tanganyika that he won't let any Jews out of Germany?" one leader asked.

Oswald Pirow, defense minister of the Union of South Africa, who is scheduled to see Hitler at Berchtesgaden Thursday on the colonial question, was expected to be the first foreigner to hear the reichsfuehrer's reaction to the proposal.

Informed Nazi quarters, before Chamberlain spoke yesterday, said they expected Hitler to tell Pirow that Germany would consider as an "affront" any scheme for settling German Jews on former German soil.

Further evidence that Jews are being squeezed out of every form of public life appeared with a government order forbidding book-makers to accept bets from Jews.

Pituitary Gland Is Known
As Body's Great Regulator

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

LAST summer the newspapers carried the story of young Eula Herbert, of Chocoma, Louisiana, who stopped growing when she was eight years old. At the age of 14 she was four feet tall and weighed 52 pounds. She was then taken as a patient at the New Orleans Charity hospital and given extracts of the pituitary and thyroid glands. She rapidly grew until last summer she was four feet four inches tall and weighed 92 pounds.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Such results are difficult to evaluate, but the story serves to call attention to the functions of the pituitary gland, which hangs on a stalk from the base of the brain like a small plum. About the size of your thumb, this little structure carries more capacity to influence your happiness and health and the smooth running of your life than any other like amount of tissue in your body.

It has a growth hormone, as the story of Eula Herbert indicates. If one mouse of a litter has its pituitary removed at the age of three weeks, its growth immediately stops. Fourteen weeks later it is less than half the size of its litter mates.

The pituitary also sends out a hormone which influences reproduction. The ovaries of the mouse whose pituitary is removed are completely atrophied at 36 weeks.

Stimulating Hormone. It also sends a stimulating hormone to the thyroid gland which influences all nutrition. It sends little chemical messengers to the pancreas, the adrenals—to all the other ductless glands. It is the real dynamo of the body.

Popular interest has centered in its influence on growth. Probably all the circus giants and probably all the giants who ever lived had a disease of the pituitary gland.

The growth hormone has been isolated in nearly pure chemical form. It has been used extensively in treatment of dwarfism. Sometimes spectacular results occur, as in the case of Eula Herbert. They are, however, difficult to evaluate, as I said, because one cannot be sure that growth would not have started anyhow, as I heard the distinguished discoverer of the growth hormone said in conversation last winter.

But many experiments and observations are being made with pituitary extract, and we may be on the way to astonishing results.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 W. 45th st., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

Music Improvement Program Arranged

LISBON, Nov. 22.—A music appreciation program for the county's rural schools was adopted by music teachers of the county at a meeting Monday afternoon in the office of County School Supt. W. E. Roberts.

Supplies, including phonograph records, books, charts, etc., have been purchased for the teachers and are now available at the superintendent's office. Money was derived from the various music festivals held in the county last spring.

The courses are to be outlined by George Bretz, county music supervisor, who said that the purpose of the program was to develop a desire among pupils to hear better music, to acquaint them with the various instruments, to learn more about the composers and to create an incentive for music among students of the rural school setup.

Secretary of State Comments On Business Practices

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Secretary Hull declared today Japan's reply to his note of Oct. 6 was unsatisfactory.

Hull's note had asserted that Japan was violating American rights in China in an extensive series of monopolies, trade restrictions, currency changes and tariff alterations.

The secretary of state said the Japanese reply received this week was not responsive to the position of this government as set forth in his note of Oct. 6, and to the general position which this country has taken throughout its history with regard to American rights and interests not only in relations with China but also in relations with all countries.

Hull added that he preferred not to comment further until the state department should have had more time to study the substance and implications of the Japanese note.

Joel McCrea and Andrea Leeds in a scene from "Youth Takes a Fling," showing at the State Wednesday only.

"Youth Takes a Fling," featuring Joel McCrea and Andrea Leeds, is as the title indicates, a story of modern youth, its romance and trials. The picture shows Wednesday only at the State.

Hailed as the "surprise" picture of the year, and starring Andrea Leeds and Joel McCrea, the story which reveals the poignant heartaches which conflicting ambitions may bring to reckless love.

Romance and Comedy
Dramatic in theme, yet highlighted by moments of wistful romance and gay comedy, the picture is considered a distinct triumph for Director Archie Mayo. Before a throng of critics at its Hollywood preview, the Joe Pasternak production won recognition for introducing an entirely new technique in screen story-telling.

As the young Kansas farm boy who has dreamed for years of going to sea, and comes to New York seeking work on a boat, Joel McCrea has his most impressive role since "Wells Fargo." Miss Leeds, in her portrayal of the romantic girl who sells wedding gowns and lives only for the day she herself will be a bride, is called on for the most versatile performance of her career.

Top comedy roles are carried by Frank Jenks, remembered for his fine work as the singing taxi driver in "100 Men and a Girl," and Dorothy Kent, Andrea's room-mate in the story, who advises her on how to capture a man's attention.

Colman Film Concludes
Concluding performances of "If I Were King," starring Ronald Colman, with Frances Dee, Basil

Rathbone and others, will be seen at the State tonight. History, romance, intrigue and adventure combine to produce what will, undoubtedly, be one of the ten best films of the year.

The Grand attraction Wednesday and Thursday, "Submarine Patrol," also is a happy combination of history, romance and adventure.

"Submarine Patrol" is the never-before-told story of the heroic "Sprinter Fleet," focused on the Sub Chaser 569 and its motley, ill-assorted crew of civilian odds and ends—the strangest crew ever to man a fighting ship.

Learn To Deliver
When the film's, wooden craft is plunged unexpectedly into the thick of the U. boat warfare the men learn to stand and deliver in the face of danger. Such stellar players as Preston Foster, George Bancroft, Slim Summerville, John Carradine, Joan Valerie, Henry Armetta, Warren Hymer, Douglas Fowley, J. Farrell MacDonald and Maxie Rosenbloom are included in the cast.

A dramatic story of England's occupation of northern India, "Drums" shows tonight for the last times at the Grand. The all-technicolor film, which has some exceedingly beautiful shots of the wild Indian mountain country, in which the story is laid, stars the young Indian boy, Sabu, who made his film debut last year in "Elephant Boy."

but the outward appearance often varies in a manner appropriate to the setting.

"Simplicity is usually aimed for, except in unusual cases. The aim in each case is to combine appearance with efficiency in a manner that makes the physical conception of the structure pleasing to the eye and yet allowing for rapid and accurate functioning of equipment in its distribution of telephone calls.

"Certain special provisions must be made in telephone buildings for the accommodation of telephone equipment. Ceilings must be higher to allow room for tall racks and frames and the structures must be generally reinforced to more than ordinary extent to withstand the greater floor loads imposed by the large amounts of copper, iron, steel and lead which are used in telephone equipment.

Expensive Equipment

"A telephone building houses expensive equipment which, in most cases, exceeds the building itself in value. That will be true in regard to the Salem building. There is an intricate network of wires, cables, and other equipment necessary for voice transmission.

"Some idea of this system may be gained by a glance at a chart showing the distribution of blood vessels in the human body and with an imaginative eye visualizing each as a channel of speech having its own individual importance in the operation of the system as a whole."

Manager Willman said that the building is scheduled for completion in May. Expert workmen from the Western Electric company, manufacturing unit of the Bell system, will arrive in Salem late in June to start installation of the dial central office equipment. About three months will be required for this.

The job of changing the telephone instruments to the dial type will start in July. This will take eight installers about two months. At present Salem has approximately 2,700 telephones.

One of the principal activities in the outside plant program will be the rehabilitation of about 600 drop wires. These are the wires which enter the home or office of the subscriber from the outside.

Rebuild Rural Lines

Rural telephone service from the Salem exchange are included in the dial program and it will be necessary to rebuild nearly 15 miles of rural lines to prepare them for the advent of dial service. In fact, all of the outside plant will be thoroughly checked to make sure that it will be in 100 per cent condition when the new system starts to operate.

It will be necessary to change all Salem telephone numbers so that they will conform to the dial method of operation, according to Manager Willman. The new numbers will become effective at the time of the cut-over, which will take place during the fall of next year and at which time new directories will be supplied to all subscribers.

BANQUET GIVEN FOR ENGINEERS

Charles Snyder and Predecessor, Lloyd Kirk, Honored at Lisbon Dinner

LISBON, Nov. 22.—Outgoing and incoming county engineers were feted at a banquet Monday evening in the Wick hotel when 70 staff members and their wives tendered a recognition dinner to Lloyd Kirk and his successor, Charles Snyder of Salem.

Kirk was presented with a radio and Snyder with a pen and pencil set. Their wives received flowers. Both men responded with brief "thank you" talks.

Snyder succeeded Kirk as county engineer Nov. 15 following the election Nov. 8 when the former defeated Robert Wheatley of Salineville for the post. Kirk was not a candidate. He tendered his resignation in a pre-election agreement and it became effective as soon as his successor was elected and qualified.

"STOP HUME!" GOAL OF SALEM GRIDIRON SQUAD

Hume Still Has Chance To Cop State Scoring Honors

Mansfield Madison Back Is 14 Points Ahead of Alliance's High-Scoring Star

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—Gene Harmon, Mansfield Madison's 140-pound backfield star, just about had the state's scholastic football scoring honors clinched today for the 1938 campaign, his total of 146 giving him a one-point edge over Carl Grate of Greenfield McClain.

The Madison midline, who had lagged in third place practically all year behind Grant and Alliance's 17-year-old Hillis Hume, cracked through for three touchdowns Saturday as Mt. Glead was smothered 19 to 0, the youngster getting all but one of the points. That lifted him above both Grate and Hume.

Grate ended his high school career with a 59-point spurge in one contest to reach the 145 mark. Hume, third with 132 points, still has a chance for the leadership as Alliance plays Salem Thursday.

Dick Huston, Toledo Libbey's husky Negro star, in fourth place with 120 points, also has a chance to approach the leaders, and he must do it in the Turkey day scrap.

NAME ANDRAKO BUCK CAPTAIN

Center Is Honored As 31 Players Receive Ohio Awards

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—Steve Andraiko, who worked his way up from substitute ranks to a first string center, will captain Ohio State university's 1939 football team.

The Trinway junior was elected by squad members at their annual grid dinner last night to replace Co-Captains Carl Kaplanoff and Mike Kabealo. Sweaters or blankets were awarded to 31 lettermen at the affair.

Andraiko played freshman football at Villanova but came to Columbus in 1935, landed a warehouse job and enrolled in the university. He was elevated to the varsity last season after playing with the frosh squad in 1935-36. An 185-pounder, he's a college of commerce student.

In addition to Andraiko, awards went to Joe Alekous, Ross Bartsch, Keith Bliss, Harvey Bolser, Bill Bullock, Frank Claid, Forrest Fordham, Charles Gales, Jerry Grunnie, Ed Hofmayer, Kabealo, Kaplanoff, James Langhurst, Wendell Lehr, Charles Maag, Victor Marino, Bill Nosker.

Deo Sarkkinen, Alex Schoenbaum, Don Scott, Frank Smith, James Sutton, Frank Spears, James Straubach, Tom Weibach, Claude White, Stuart Whitehead, Richard Wuellner, Frank Zadowner and Louis Young.

Coach Francis A. Schmidt said he believed the Buckeyes hit their peak for the season in winning the Illinois game. The team defeated the Illinois, Indiana, New York university and Chicago; tied Northwestern, but lost to Southern California, Purdue and Michigan to wind up sixth in the Big Ten standings.

At Wittenberg college in Springfield, Robert Blackburn of Springfield was voted the title of most valuable player during the 1938 season. Blackburn, a center, and 22 teammates were awarded sweaters or blankets at their annual grid dinner. Wittenberg grid captains are named before each game. Guard Leroy Frederick of Mansfield received a three-year service blanket.

First-year service slipover sweaters were awarded George Moffa, Hudak and Lawrence Law of Warren, Pete Marshall of Warren, Ed Chaitain of Mansfield, Vincent Cooper of Weirton, W. Va., Lester Julian of Salem, John Johnson of Middletown and John Kosto of Elyria.

Pond and Football Aids Are Rehired

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 22.—Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond, Yale head coach, and his staff of football mentors, turned to winter activities today secure in the knowledge they would be retained for the 1939 season.

Their reappointment, announced yesterday by Chairman Malcolm Farmer of the Yale Athletic association, was an answer to alumni criticism of the season's record—six defeats in eight games—the worst in 67 years of Eli gridiron history.

Vance Improves

CLEARWATER, Fla., Nov. 22.—Daddy Vance, former big league pitcher, appeared to be winning his duel with death today. Dr. L. B. Dickinson said the 46-year-old former speedball king, who is suffering from lobar pneumonia, had a good day Monday although he was seriously ill.

Holbrook Preps

MANCHESTER, Nov. 22.—Little Alford Holbrook college, which meets Morehead Teachers' college of Kentucky in the basketball opener here Dec. 5, prepared for its second-pre-season drill today. Four veterans, all slated for first-string duty, participated in the initial workout yesterday.

ELEVEN SALEM HIGH SENIORS IN LAST GAME

Finish Scholastic Gridiron Careers at Alliance Thanksgiving Day

Eleven Salem High school seniors will don football togs for the last time Thursday afternoon when Coach Carl Schroeder's Quakers face Alliance at the Mt. Union college stadium in Alliance.

The Thanksgiving day classic will be the final game of the 1938 season for the Quakers and the last scholastic gridiron engagement for the following Salem seniors:

Bill Schaeffer, Dick Terry and Bill Rogers, ends; Mike Guappone and Clarence Woerther, guards, and Bud Dean, Mike Oana, Stuart Wise, Joe Morris, John Syppko and Delbert Thomas, backs.

Injuries will prevent Rogers and Woerther from seeing action in the final game. Rogers is laid up with a broken leg while Woerther will be forced to remain on the sidelines because of a dislocated shoulder suffered in the Lisbon game.

Both Rogers and Woerther were regulars at one time during the season, the former playing at an end post and the latter holding down a guard berth. They will probably be in uniform for the final game, but will not break into the lineup.

Schaeffer, 166-pound six-footer, will be concluding a worthy career as an end for the Quakers. He has held down a varsity wing post for three years and has been one of Salem's most reliable defensive players in addition to being a fine pass receiver.

Terry has performed capably for the Quakers as an end this season after seeing some service as a substitute wingman last year.

Guappone has served as a varsity guard and line-backer on defense for the Quakers although he was forced to remain out of the Wellsville and Lisbon games because of a broken hand received in the Struthers game. He has played with his hand in a cast in the Quakers last two contests.

Dean and Wise have been regulars in the Quakers backfield this year after alternating as varsity backs last season. Oana has performed at blocking halfback for the Red and Black this year following an absence from the Quaker squad in 1937 due to scholastic difficulties.

Morris has broken into the lineup several times this season as a reserve back while Syppko and Thomas are reserves who failed to see any amount of action but have been faithful in attending practice sessions and helping to build the Quaker varsity.

Loss of the 11 seniors will have little effect upon the middle of the Quakers line next year, but will affect the backfield and the ends.

Coach Carl Schroeder will be required to find two new ends and three new backs at the start of next season, but will have at least Wukotich, Carroll Green, Dick Beck, Joe Tender and Leonard Piersol available as the foundation for a strong line.

The lone backfield veteran available for next year's team will be Marvin (Busting Buster) Wukotich, pile-driving fullback, who has scored 68 of the Quakers 122 points this season.

Wukotich has made 11 touchdowns and two extra points to lead the Quakers in individual scoring. Dean has tallied three touchdowns and one extra point for 19 points while Wise has 18 points to his credit for making three touchdowns.

Schaeffer has scored one touchdown and added five extra points for a total of 11 points for the season. Albert Pilch, substitute back, is credited with six points for a touchdown he made in the Sebring game.

Given Awards

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 22.—Harold Hursh of Middletown, O.; Frank Patrick of Youngstown, O.; and Joe Toffi of Campbell, O. were given varsity football awards at Indiana university's banquet last night.

Jim Scullion's Gridiron Team Cops Championship

Championships apparently follow W. J. (Jim) Scullion, former Salem athlete, wherever he goes.

Scullion became coach at Grange High school in Chagrin Falls this year after an outstanding record as a coach at Olmsted Falls High school and in his first season at Grange he has developed a championship football team. Scullion's Orange eleven won six games, lost one and tied one in winning the eastern Cuyahoga county championship. The title was clinched when Orange defeated Independence, 33 to 14.

After losing to Brush, 19-2, in its opening game, Orange posted victories over Mentor, 8-6; Olmsted, 37-2; Wickliffe, 21-0; Royalton, 36-2; Brecksville, 7-6; and Independence, 33-14. A 6-6 tie with Chagrin High completed Orange's schedule.

Scullion's team was led by Co-Captains Carl Dickinson, 155-pound quarterback, and Eugene Smith, 165-pound halfback. Smith and Dickinson each scored 55 points during the season.

Jack Reeves, 170-pound halfback and tackle, was the best defensive player and blocker, while Ted Otcasek, 150-pound fullback, was the leading ball-handler and a good blocker.

Mainstays of the line, which was one of the best in the county, were Bill McCrone, left end; Roy Pulley and James Martin, guards, and Dick Shaw, center.

Scullion's basketball team opened practice this week with three members of last year's squad returning for service.

PRO FOOTBALL DRAWS CROWDS

Club Owners Happy with New Attendance Mark Certain for Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Among those who will join in the spirit of Thanksgiving this week are the owners of the 10 clubs in the National Professional Football league.

Already this season they have enticed 1,016,255 cash customers to their games, and there still are seven league contests to be played, not counting the big play-off between the eastern and western divisions of the league. Last year's total attendance was only slightly over 1,000,000, and that was a record.

At least five clubs already have set new individual crowd marks. They are Detroit, Green Bay, Cleveland, Washington and Philadelphia. On one day this fall 129,000 persons paid their way into the professional citadels.

Detroit, which had 43,000 spectators at one game with Green Bay, has doubled last year's home attendance.

The two games that have created the most excitement here this season were those between Army and Notre Dame, which drew some 70,000 to Yankee stadium, and between the Giants and Green Bay, which was seen by 48,000 at the Polo grounds.

Notre Dame Rated Ahead Of Texas Christian In National Poll

BY DREW MIDDLETON
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Notre Dame, unchecked in eight major starts this season, holds its place at the top of the Associated Press football ranking poll for the second straight week. Close behind is Texas Christian with Duke, Tennessee and Pittsburgh within striking distance.

The writers gave Notre Dame 48 votes for first place and 807 points while T. C. U. had 28 first place ballots and 746 points. Duke was third with 553 points and Tennessee and Pitt tied for fourth with 523 points.

Each of the leaders has terrific opposition ahead. Texas Christian playing Southern Methodist, Duke undergoing the acid test against Pitt on Saturday, Tennessee meeting Kentucky, an old rival, on Thanksgiving day, while Notre Dame faces Southern California on Dec. 3.

The rankings as cast by 84 sports writers: (First place votes in brackets, points scored on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis).

Texas Christian (28) 746
Notre Dame (48) 807
Duke (3) 553
Tennessee (3) 523
Pittsburgh (2) 523
Oklahoma 351
Carnegie 336
Minnesota 152
California 151
Cornell 147

Second ten: Holy Cross 79, Michigan 52, Dartmouth 38, Southern California 36, Northwestern 35, Villanova 33, Texas Tech 25, Fordham 21, Santa Clara 23, Georgetown 11.

Others mentioned: Boston college 2, Iowa State, Alabama and Harvard 1 each.

Last Saturday's engagements had little effect on the ranking of the first ten. Notre Dame and T. C. U., both winners although the Irish were held in the same spots they occupied a week ago. Duke again inched into offensive spotlights but managed to beat tough North Carolina State and as a result the Blue Devils took over third place from Tennessee, which dropped to fourth.

Pittsburgh held fifth position by annihilating Penn State, a tough customer in its own league, and Oklahoma moved from seventh to sixth by taming Iowa State, which socked Wisconsin and won the Big Ten title, jumped from 23rd to eighth. California, victor over Stanford, continued to hold ninth and Cornell, preparing for its Thanksgiving day clash with Penn, fell to tenth.

Quakers Will Concentrate On Halting Triple-Threat Ace Of Alliance Aviators

"Stop Hume and You Stop Alliance", Salem High Gridders Are Told; Fast Charging Line, Hard Tackling Will Be Necessary

"Stop Hume!" This is the cry echoing across Centennial park practice field this week as Salem High school's Quakers prepare for their annual Thanksgiving day clash with Alliance's high-flying Aviators.

When Salem and Alliance meet at 2:15 p. m. Thursday at Mount Union college stadium in Alliance, the Quakers will be concentrating on halting Hillis Hume, 17-year-old triple-threat quarterback of the Aviators, who has set Ohio scholastic gridirons on fire this season with his scintillating scoring feats.

"Stop Hume and you stop Alliance" is the word which is being passed around the Quakers camp as Coach Carl Schroeder sends his charges through their final workouts of the season.

The task facing the Quakers is none too simple for the 162-pound Alliance quarterback is the highest scoring Class A scholastic star in the state and has not been stopped "cold" by any of the Aviators' nine opponents to date.

Encouragement is given the Quakers, however, in the fact that one of the two teams which held Hume scoreless this season was Barborton's Magics, who lost to Salem, 7 to 0, less than two weeks ago. Massillon, the mythical state champion, is the only other team which has been able to prevent Hume from crossing its goal line.

Hume, who has scored 132 points in nine games, chalking up as many as five touchdowns in a single contest, is trans, bells and whistles to Alliance's offensive attack. He is the punter, passer and Hume.

Gridiron observers are confident that Hume can be stopped by a fast-charging line and hard and sure tackling. His Aviator mates have given him excellent blocking support to date, and, it is pointed out, without this blocking he could not have possibly performed as brilliantly as he has.

With this in mind, Coach Schroeder will probably instruct his charges to attempt to upset the Alliance blockers and thus clear a path to the elusive quarterback.

Schroeder expresses the opinion that Hume is not as dangerous a ball-carrier as Paul Anderson, 19-year-old Struthers "Blond Express" who ran wild against the Quakers earlier in the season. Anderson was not only a clever ball-toter, but possessed speed and drive as well.

But regardless of his comparative ability, Hume is recognized as one of the finest backs in the state and will bear watching. It has been his play which has stood out in each of the nine games Alliance has played.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Floding & Reynard Druggs and Burt C. Capel Realtors leaders in the Quaker City league, clashed at the Grate Recreation alleys last night with the Druggists winning two out of three games to take over sole possession of first place.

The Realtors who were formerly tied for first, dropped to second position. Calladine's Service, Althouse Motors and Harris Garage moved into a tie for third place.

Calladine's won three games from the Salem Motor, Althouse's won three heats from the Coy Buicks and Harris Garage swept its match with the Golden Eagle.

In other Quaker City matches, the Trades Class won three games from the Hotel Lape and Sharpe & Wise Contractors won two out of three from the Economy V-8's.

John Carpenter of the Althouse Motors placed a 24 game between other games of 199 and 190 for a 533 series which led individual efforts at the Grate alleys.

Taking two games from the Carroll Ceglers, Mullins Foremen continued to lead the American league at the Masonic temple alleys.

Fernengel's Colts remained in second place despite losing two games to the Reich Sports. Other matches saw the Electric Furnace win two games from Demings after forfeiting the first game and the Moose take two out of three from the Ohio Edison.

A 589 series by Earl Beardmore was high at the Masonic drives. Beardmore combined games of 161, 198 and 230.

Schoolboy Scoring Star Boosts Total

KNOXVILLE Tenn. Nov. 22.—Bobby Cifers, Kingsport High school's touchdown machine, has demonstrated his ability to score under pressure.

The 183-pound junior halfback sparked Kingsport to a 29 to 6 victory last night over Knoxville City High scoring nine points himself, tossing two touchdown passes and gaining 142 yards on running plays.

Cifers' points boosted his season's point total to 222 points, 11 more than tallied by Bill De Correvont of Chicago last season.

SYNOPSIS

Of the three pretty Wickham girls, Margaret, the eldest, is the prettiest. It is she who supplies the boy friends for the younger girls, Natalie and Barbara, and for many of her friends. With most of the eligible young men of the community to choose from, Margaret picks Kenneth Raleigh, penniless but popular and handsome young football hero. One night, while at Margaret's home, dressing for the Senior Ball, Sue Decker, her best friend, breaks down and confesses that she also loves Kenneth. Sue asks Margaret to reveal the secret of her charm.

CHAPTER IV

The door opened and Natalie and Babs came in, formal over their arms.

"Now what do you want?" Sue interrupted herself to demand, half jokingly, half angrily.

Natalie, the pert one—"the plain one," some unkind ones said—closed the door firmly behind her and grinned. "I want to dress here. Babs also wants to dress here. We want Maggie to do our hair. Any objections?"

"PLENTY! If I ever have another friend with half a dozen insolent little sisters tagging after her all the time! If after this semester I have to look at you two precocious brats again. Oh, why talk to you? Why talk about anything? Margaret, they're too young to go tonight. This is my first senior ball, and I'm a senior. And there's that impudent sophomore Natalie, and the infant in arms, Babs, going forth to—Maggie! If you let them dance with Ken! You won't, will you? Because if I see Ken so much as LOOK at either of them—"

Babs put teasing arms around Sue's neck. "We wouldn't have a chance while you were around, Sue."

"No, I know you wouldn't. But Maggie might tell him it was his duty or something. And I couldn't bear it!"

Margaret, used to the bantering, went smilingly on with her dressing. She was trying to pin Ken's corsage of pinky purple orchids on her new white net. And Natalie, fidgeting for help with her double row of stiff little curls, said irritably, "Oh, we know you couldn't bear it. So does Kenny. Heaven's sake, why don't you forget him!"

"Of course you know it. Of course, Kenny knows it!" Sue retorted gayly. "Don't I shout it to the world? Doesn't everybody know he's my secret sorrow? Doesn't Maggie? Doesn't he?" But there was a catch in her high excited voice. Her mouth twitched. She snatched the orchids from Margaret's hands and flung them in Natalie's face.

"Get out!" she cried. "Get out! Do you hear me!"

"Well, of all the—"

"Shh—" Margaret begged. "Please go—both of you. And I'll come and help you in a minute. Sue—Sue darling, don't cry. It's nothing. The flowers aren't hurt, and neither's Natalie, and you want to look lovely for our dance. Ken and Joe will be here any minute. Sue! Please—for my sake!"

But Sue, who in all her 21 years had never had to play second fiddle, threw herself on the bed, in all her crimson chiffon glory.

"You don't know," she said thickly. "You don't know because you never wanted anybody but Ken and you always had him. But I love him, too. I love him more than you do. I love him terribly, and I can't forget him and I won't give him up to you—not even to you!—I can't—I can't!"

Breakfast was later than usual on Sunday morning, and only Margaret dressed for it. Babs came, yawning, in a red silk kimono and Natalie, who complained of her head, was wearing pale blue lounging pajamas.

Their good morning kisses to their father and Aunt Bet dutifully distributed, the three girls settled down to their breakfasts, with no apparent desire to talk.

"Did you have a pleasant time, dears?" Aunt Bet inquired autoand dance all night and gossip and giggle until morning and then eat like a farmhand when you get up. Nothing bothered them.

Paula, the middle-aged maid, brought more hotcakes. All but Margaret had a second helping.

"I thought Sue Decker looked very nice last night," Aunt Bet began experimentally. "That color suits her."

"Handsome is as as handsome does," Natalie observed, with her mouth full.

Babs choked over her coffee and had to be patted on the back.

"I thought we agreed to forget it!" Margaret said hotly.

"You can if you like," Babs retorted just as warmly. "But I said, and I say again, that you're a worm to put up with her. I don't like her and I don't trust her, and she's a hussy and a—"

"Snatcher!" Babs cut in. "A body snatcher."

Aunt Bet looked over her glasses, and faintly shook her head.

"She doesn't mean anything," Margaret said defensively. "She's spoiled, of course, but it isn't her fault. When you have a father who can give you everything in the world you want—"

Alex Wickham rattled the papers, cleared his throat. "May I ask if your father has failed you in any important matter?"

Margaret rushed to kiss the top of his head. "Darling, you KNOW I didn't mean that. The Deckers are just rotten with money, that's all, and they've tried to buy everything for Sue—"

RENO, Nev.—Concrete evidence is now available to sustain the sometimes scoffed at myth that Reno divorcees throw their wedding rings into the Truckee river. Sam Buzzard and H. A. Mellors of Pennsylvania were gazing into the river from the Center street bridge when they spotted a blazing diamond. They obtained rubber boots, waded in and came back with a diamond set wedding ring.

TRENTON, Mo.—Oil companies have leased a large area in north central Missouri and there is a possibility that Missouri may soon be listed among the oil-producing states. It is estimated that at least 300,000 acres of land is already under lease in the six-county area around Trenton.
